THE EMERALD LOUNGE

Hi, I am Jana

Thank you for requesting details about my interior design service and I look forward to learning about your upcoming project in more detail. I believe in emphasising clients' life values of integrity, passion for nature and what better way to complete a room than by expertly connecting colour with emotion.

I create homes full of natural energy matching clients' personalities and showcasing the layers of their colourful life.

THE EMERALD LOUNGE

Why is interior design important?

Every space can be designed to incorporate the basic principles of biophilic design and there are often many elements that will collectively enhance the interior and the well-being of those within it. A balanced mix of natural light, views of nature, vegetation, movement, natural textures & materials and colour will provide a positive impact on your mood, creativity and general outlook on life. Everyone needs a place to feel visually comforted and uplifted by their surroundings.

How does it work?

Interior design

Our way of working together all depends on the size of the project and the level of detail required. This will help us establish how much of my involvement is needed. Once your interior designs are agreed you can either opt to take on the work yourself, using the illustrations, links and references supplied, or I can implement and complete the works on your behalf. We can discuss what would work best for you in our discovery call.

"Jana was instrumental in tying together my various ideas and designing plans through her 3D models for the colour plan of our house. Her vision seamlessly tied the entire flow of energy/ intent for our home. Her vast knowledge, enthusiasm and dynamic approach transformed my project from feeling like an overwhelming journey into a playful and exciting process of creative discovery."

The beginning of it all

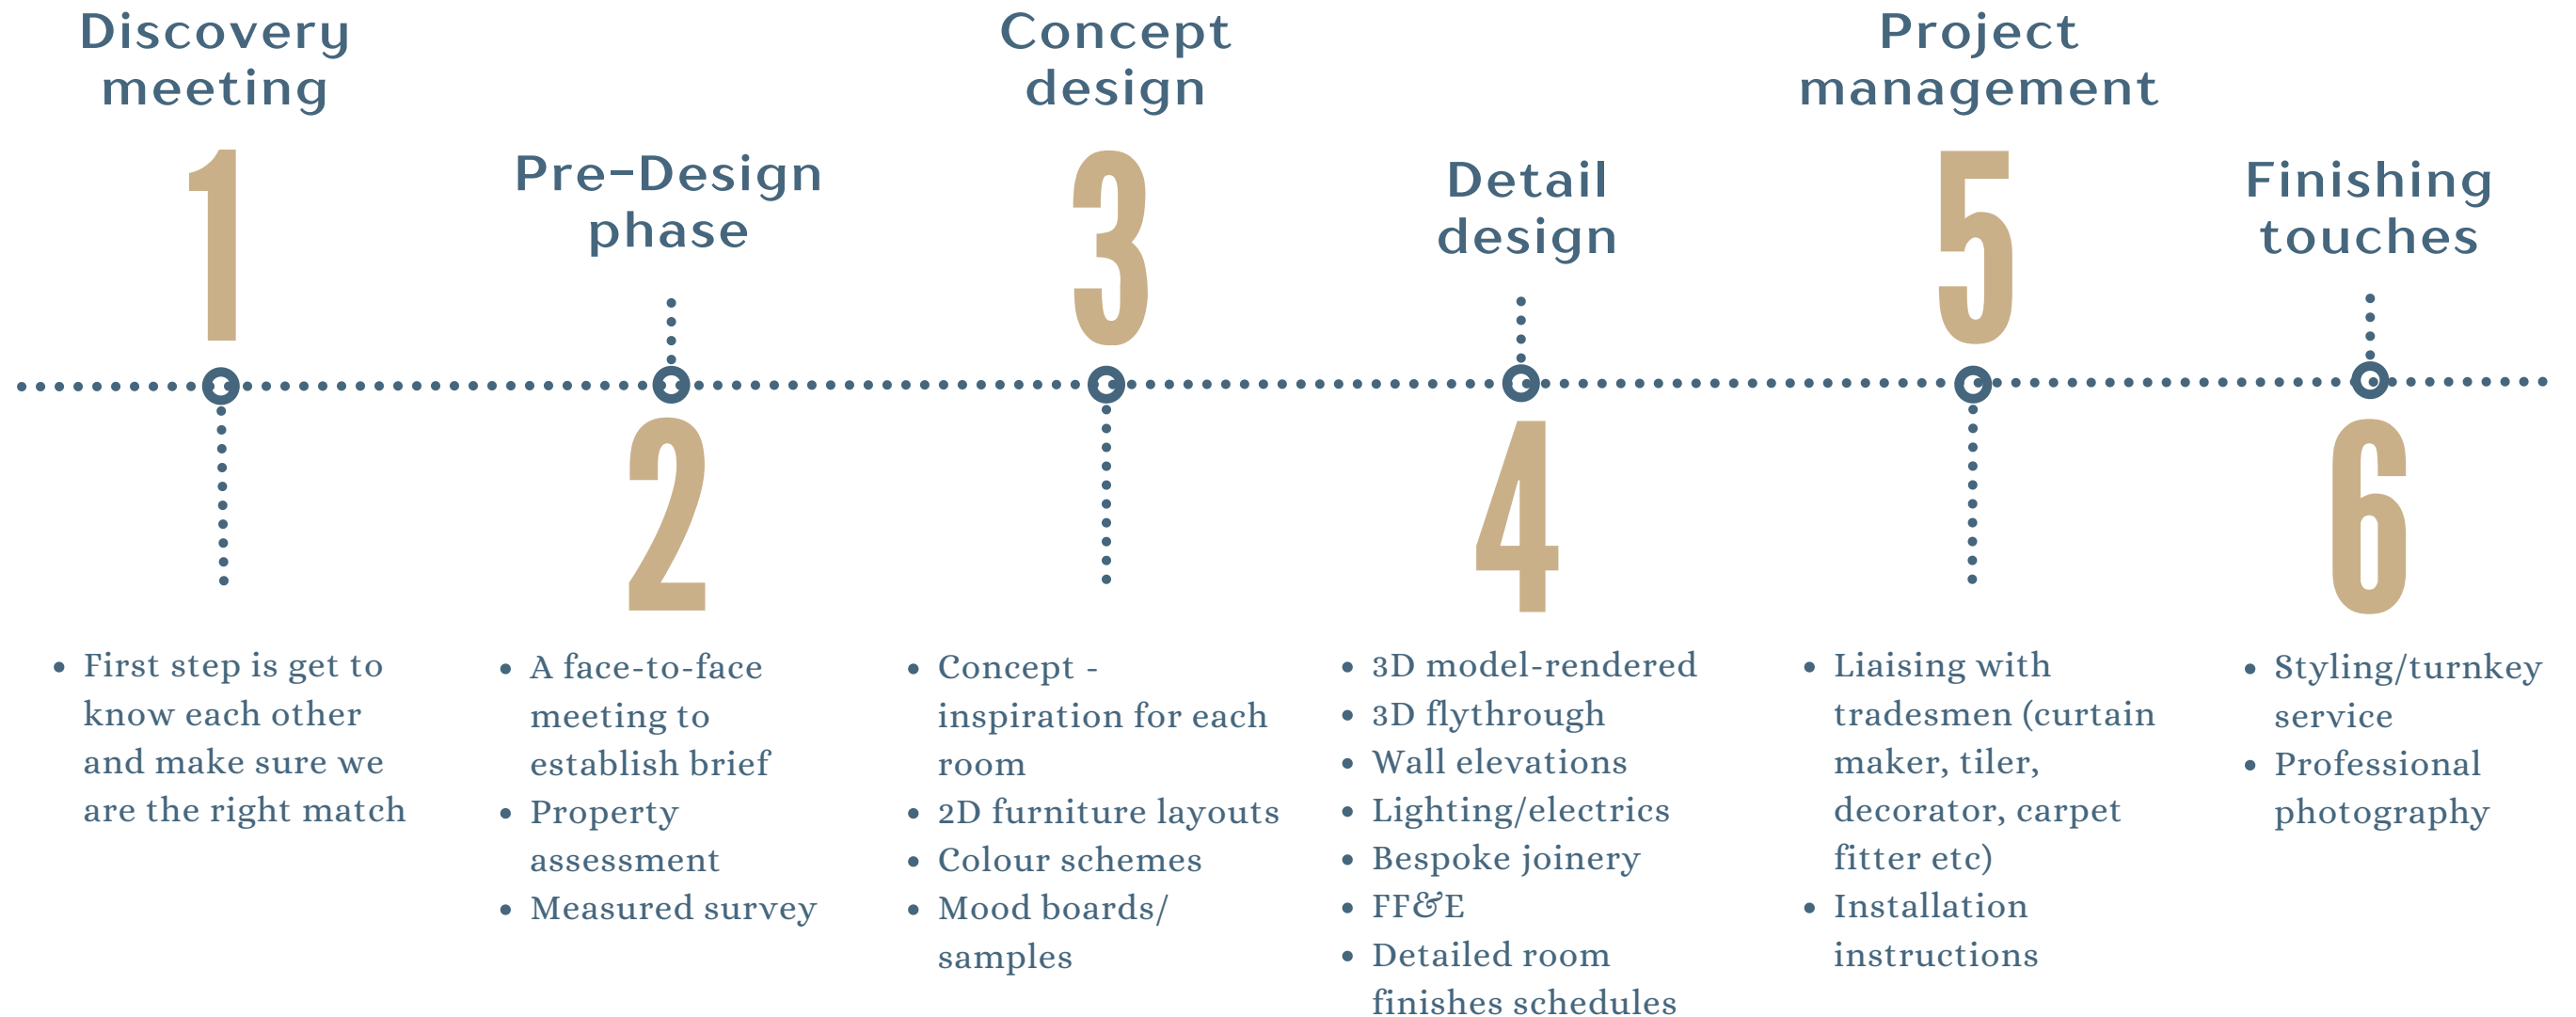

As no two clients are the same, our journey begins by revealing your "seasonal personality", a fun profiling framework that helps me discover your interior preferences in an unexpected way. This will be emailed ahead of our first meeting, together with a discovery form for you to share more detail about your project, and we will discuss your response to both to help me truly understand your needs and find the best way to tailor your space to meet your goals. A copy of my terms & conditions will also be emailed to help us form a strong working relationship from the start. Read on for the stages of a typical bespoke interior design journey customised to meet your individual needs.

Interior design stages

THE EMERALD LOUNGE

"The room has literally changed our lives; after two years of blood, sweat and tears that comes with a big renovation project on top of Covid and other pressures, it has bought our family together again after being on the brink of collapse."

Design fee

Many times, my initial visit starts with the request for the renovation of one room but may end up with a brief for the whole floor or even the whole property, as there may be ways to spread your budget and give you what you need without the big price tag. I also pass on my trade discounts to clients when taking advantage of my sourcing and project management services. I pride myself on always delivering excellent value for money.

THE EMERALD LOUNGE

I've been anxious to take the plunge to something bold, worried of making an expensive mistake and generally unable to find any shade of paint that worked in my high contrast east/west facing modern home. After working with Jana she helped identify what my style was and the elements that were important to me in a design. Post decorating my house is now unrecognisable! I have colour, I have wallpaper, I have art on the walls and home that feels like it reflects my personality. The design is cohesive and the rooms now compliment each other and I couldn't be happier with the end result.

Appointments

Whether in-person or virtually, meetings are as exciting as they are informative.

The feedback from my previous clients is that they feel my collaborative approach helps them make design decisions for their future projects as a consequence of a close working relationship.

I look forward to taking you on this creative journey and introducing you to the inspirational world of interior design.
